Owsley Co. Jailer Involved in Accident

Friday evening Owsley County Jailer Robert Cope was working inside of their barn while his wife Melissa and their granddaughter were sitting on their side by side watching. According to Robert's wife Melissa, their granddaughter loves to act like she is driving the ATV. Melissa thought the ATV was in reverse, but but when she started it, the ATV leapt ahead running over Robert's right leg and knee.

Robert was flown to the University of Kentucky Hospital where he was treated and released Saturday morning. On Sunday morning, Robert was taken back to Kentucky River Medical Center at Jackson with symptoms similar to a heart attack. He was transported to the ARH Hospital in Hazard, KY where according to family members all of the test results have been great. He is currently undergoing preventive treatment for pneumonia because of a fever he was running Sunday night

Fiscal Court Approves Second Reading of New Budget

The Owsley County Fiscal Court held their regular scheduled meeting on Monday, June 8, 2015 at 6:30 pm. All officials were present.

During the reading of the minutes, as of May 31, 2015 the following amounts are in the reconciliation budget: General: $118,381.93; Road: $228,624.28; Jail: 898.18; L.G.E.A: $3,264.60; Solid Waste: $4919.05; Parks & Recreation: $1,825.33; LGEDF: $119,250.20 for a total balance of $468,163.57.

The second reading of the new county budget was presented. Judge Turner asked the magistrates if they had any changes that they wanted made in the budget, there were none. Judge Turner asked also to approve a Annual Standing Order to Pre-Approve Certain Recurring Expenses Pursuant to KRS 68.275(3). Booneville's 1st Annual Music Festival

Hey Owsley County! "This past weekend the Owsley County Alliance for Recreation & Entertainment (O.C.A.R.E.) hosted their 1st Annual Booneville Music Festival. We were so excited about this past weekend and hope you all had a good time. The line-up included Sparrow Hawks, Abandoned Station, Mike Reynolds, Tex Baker & Joe Spencer, Driftwood Bandits, Taylor Dye, Timothy Baker, TJ Howard and Jimmy Rose with the Jimmy Rose Band. On Friday former University of Kentucky basketball player Jarrod Polson spoke to the crowd. It would be impossible to turn out an event like that without the help of a lot of people, and we have a lot of thanking to do.

First, we want to thank the Owsley Fiscal Court and county workers for their support. From letting us use the beautiful piece of property, to sending guys to help us get the stage up and generators moved, bringing a dumpster to the site, we couldn't have asked for more support. Next, we want to thank Island City Fire Department for driving out to help us anchor the stage. To come that far without a second thought meant a lot to us and we appreciate it. We also want to thank Booneville Sentinel for all (Continued on page 9)

On Thursday, April 30th, the Annual Extension Service and Soil Conservation Banquet was held at the Owsley County High School cafeteria. The banquet was a huge success with approximately 150 people in attendance. The Owsley County Extension Service recognized District Board Members, outstanding Agriculture and Natural Resources program awards, outstanding Family & Consumer Sciences program awards, Owsley County Extension Homemakers and the OCHS Seniors receiving the Extension Homemaker Scholarship, outstanding 4-H Leaders, outstanding 4-H Teen Leaders, Talk Meet, Demonstration winners, and those youth who entered State fair projects. Agriculture Program Awards for 2014- 2015: The Owsley County Agriculture & Natural Resources program awards honored Craig Callahan for Outstanding Leadership & Support of the Owsley County Extension Service. Also honored were the two Extension District Board Members for their years of dedication & leadership – Mavis Price (42 years) and Denise Hoffman (26 years). We appreciate all their support, service and leadership. Family & Consumer Sciences Program Awards for 2014-2015: The Owsley County Extension Service Family & Consumer Sciences program honored Glenn Baker for his service on the Family & Consumer Sciences Advisory Council. He also has partnered with the Owsley County Extension Service on programs such as Whoos Gives a Hoot? Beautification Project, 2S Event and many other programs. We appreciate his support of the Cooperative Extension Service and leadership. Three outstanding Owsley County Extension Homemakers were also recognized for their outstanding leadership and support throughout the year. Sandy Hamilton was recognized for her continued support of the Cooperative Extension Service and the Extension Homemakers. Sandy is the current Owsley County Extension Homemakers President. Sandy is always willing to help and has been instrumental in the student Scholarship project. Virginia Barrett was also recognized for her years of support and leadership and participation in the Owsley County Extension Homemakers. Virginia has been President of the Owsley County Extension Homemakers and has been involved in almost every program that we have offered. Another wonderful recruiter for our Extension Homemaker program is Dorothy Shouse. Dorothy was also recognized at the Extension Banquet. She has also participated through the years in all of Extension programs. Dorothy has been instrumental in assisting with our student scholarship programs as well. This year, the Owsley County Extension Homemakers raised enough funds through various fundraisers for 4 OCHS graduating senior scholarships. The Student Scholarship committee selected 4 outstanding OCHS Seniors to receive $250 each for their scholarship applications including the following in alphabetical order: Jamie Becknell, Cami Bobrowski, Ryan Caudell and Tessa Huntsberger. SUFFER THE LITTLE CHILDREN TO COME UNTO ME

VBS aka Vacations Bible School starts tonight at our church. This column in not an advertisement for it because it won't hit the newspapers until the event is either over or almost over. This column is a reminder to churches the importance of children. Specifically, to the small churches, I want to encourage them to have a VBS each year. Many may think because I have a weekly column in several newspapers that I Pastor a large church. This is not the case; Countryside is small, by some people's standards the church would be considered tiny. We are located on a major highway, but the nearest town with over 500 people is twelve miles away. We truly are a countryside church. Countryside has only two children that attend every service and a handful of others that show up periodically and as I said; tonight Vacation Bible School begins. I'm saying this as an encouragement; a charge, if you will, to all the small churches out there. Small congregations even those that would be overjoyed to have twenty total (adults and children) in attendance on a Sunday should not disregard the idea of a VBS just because, "nobody will show up." Please remember, I'm not writing this tooting any horns. I'm not writing this to brag about how our regular two grew into twenty-five because we held a VBS. I'm writing this before the first night even starts. If everyone comes that has promised, we should have around 15 kids each night, but we may only have two. It's not the numbers; it is never the numbers; it is the children that matter. VBS is the most tiring week of the year. Being a small church, we have less than ten adults that do all the work, some of them are in their seventies, but they keep on going doing what they can. We have no qualms about "borrowing" 4-5 teens from other churches to help with moving the kids from one area to another, listen to memory verses, help out with games, snack time or crafts. The whole purpose is to present the God of salvation to the children. It is the children that matter. A few years ago, it was the last day of Vacation Bible School, and I was talking to one of our church members about how exhausting but rewarding the week was. She made the comment, "The week's been great. I love doing this for the kids, it's like their revival." This woman understood that the kids need God, and we are the ones God uses to bring them to Him. Jesus wanted the children brought to Him at all cost (Matthew 19:14; Mark 10:14; Luke 18:16). He felt it so important; He scolded the adults who thought the kids were interrupting the Master as He preached. Parents usually teach their children the things mom and dad are interested in. A mechanic will have his son in the garage as soon as the kid can pick up a tool out of the toolbox and hand the item to dad. Another parent that loves baseball will buy the kid a glove and plastic bat and ball before the baby can walk. The same goes for parents that have an interest in God. The babies are in church the first Sunday after coming home from the hospital. Bible stories are being read to the child long before the child can understand the words being said. With that being said, there are a lot of parents out there that have no interest in God, and if parents have no interest in God, odds are they are not passing an interest in Christ down to their children. The children need Christ nonetheless; their eternity depends on it. Whether a congregation has ten people or ten thousand, each has a duty to reach as many people, especially children, as possible. "But we only have three or four children" is a cry I often hear from tiny churches. Think out of the box. Maybe an all-day Saturday event from 10am till 5pm would be better than a week long VBS. Two or three smaller churches combining to do a Vacation Bible School; alternating the location from year to year is another idea. The children are out there. If the church is in town, there are kids out there. If the church is in the country, the countryside is scattered with homes, some with children. Members of the congregation surely have grandchildren living nearby. Nieces, nephews, the kids are out there. "The kids already go to church someplace else" is another negative I hear. Don't worry about that. We are not trying to proselytize; we are attempting to bring Jesus to children. Some of the children will need to be saved, and you can plant a seed, even if they go back to the other church the following Sunday. Some of the children may already know the Lord, but don't forget an eight-year-old Christian needs to grow in his or her Christian walk as much as a 38-year-old Christian does. Children need their revival as much as adults do. Regardless of the size of the church VBS will wear you out physically, but gives so many rewards spiritually to people of all ages. It is the children that matter. Preacher Johnson is Pastor of Countryside Baptist Church in Parke County Indiana. Email: preacher-spout@gmail.com.

COMMONWEALTH OF KENTUCKY
23RD JUDICIAL CIRCUIT
OWSLEY CIRCUIT COURT
CIVIL ACTION NO. 13-CI-00039

TAX EASE LIEN SERVICING, LLC,

PLAINTIFF,

VS.

NOTICE OF SALE

DEFENDANTS.

By virtue of Judgment and Order of Sale by the Owsley Circuit Court in the above cause, I will, on Friday, July 3, 2015, at the hour of 9:30 a.m., at the Courthouse door in Booneville, Owsley County, Kentucky, offer the respective interests of the above parties in the following described property for sale at public auction, to-wit:

Property address: KY 30 LeRose, LeRose, Owsley County, Kentucky 41311, Parcel/Map ID# 077-20-00-028.01

Certain tract or parcels of land located on Meadow Creek, a tributary of the South Fork of the Kentucky River, on Highway #30 near LeRose, Kentucky and being 1 mile West of LeRose, Kentucky, and more particularly described as folows. To-wit:

Beginning at a point where Kelley Short’s line and Ky. Highway #30 meet; thence along said highway in a southerly direction 80 feet; thence in westerly direction in a straight line 200 feet to a stake; thence in a northerly direction in a straight line 80 feet; thence in an easterly direction in a straight line 200 feet to the point of beginning, contaning one-third (1/3) acres, be it more or less.

There is excepted and not made part of this conveyance one-half (½) of the oil and gas rights underlying said Lot #55, which this conveyance is part of, the same having heretofore been reserved by a prior grantor.

Being the same property in which Emery and Brenda Wilson, acquired an interest by virtue of a General Warranty Deed, dated February 2, 1995, of record in Deed Book 66, Page 261, of the Owsley County Clerk’s Office.

Subject to any and all applicable restrictive covenants, existing easements, utility easements, right-of-ways, provisions of applicable zoning statutes and ordinances, and rules and regulations of the Department of Health, if any.

The above described property shall be sold upon the following terms and conditions:

1. The purchaser shall take the sale real estate free and clear of the claims of the parties to this action, but it shall be sold subject to the following:

- a. Tax Ease’s lien for 2009 unpaid ad valorem taxes onreal property;
- b. current year (2015) ad valorem real estate taxes affecting the real estate for which the purchaser shall take no credit on the purchase price;
- c. easements, restrictions, and stipulations of record;
- d. any current assessments for public improvements levied against the property; and
- e. any matters which would be disclosed by an accurate survey or inspection of the property.

2. The sale shall be made to the highest and best bidder or bidders. The successful bidder shall pay cash or make a deposit of twenty percent (20%) of the purchase price, with the balance on credit for thirty (30) days. Any purchaser, other than the Plaintiff, who does not pay cash in full, shall be required to execute a bond, with surety thereon acceptable to the Master Commissioner to secure the unpaid balance of the purchase price and sale bond shall bear interest at the rate of 12% per annum from the date of sale until paid, and shall have the same force and effect as a judgment and shall remain and be a lien on the property until paid. The purchasers shall have the privilege of paying all of the balance of the purchase price prior to the expiration of the thirty (30) day period.

3. The successful bidder at sale, at bidder’s own expense, may carry fire and extended insurance coverage on the improvements from the date of sale until the purchase price is fully paid, in an amount at least sufficient to cover a loss to the extent of the court appraised value of the improvements on the real estate or the unpaid balance of the purchase price is fully paid, in whichever amount is less, with the loss payable clause to the Master Commissioner. Failure of the purchaser to effect such insurance coverage shall not affect the validity of the sale or the purchaser’s liability thereunder, but shall entitle, but not require, any party adjudicated an interest in the real estate, after giving notice to the Master Commissioner, to effect said insurance and furnish evidence of the policy to the Master Commissioner. The premium of the insurance policy shall then be charged to the purchaser as purchaser’s cost.

4. In the event the Plaintiff becomes the purchaser of the real estate at the Master Commissioner’s sale, and if the Plaintiff’s bid is less than its lien adjudged herein, Plaintiff may comply with the terms of sale by taking credit upon this Judgment without making the cash deposit or executing the sale bond as provided for in this Judgment.

Water - Essential for Life

Water Quality Report for year 2014

This report is designed to inform the public about the quality of water and services provided on a daily basis. Our commitment is to provide our customers with a safe, clean, and reliable supply of drinking water. We want to assure that we will continue to monitor, improve, and protect the water system and deliver a high quality product. Water is the most indispensable product in every home and we ask everyone to be conservative and help us in our efforts to protect the water source and the water system.

Booneville Water treats surface water from the South Fork of the Kentucky River. An analysis of the susceptibility of the Booneville South Fork Kentucky River water supply to contamination indicates that susceptibility is generally moderate. However, there are a few areas of concern. Nonpoint source pollution such as agriculture, livestock, and logging are the most prominent sources of potential contamination. Several oil and gas wells are in the protection area as well. Bridges are another area of concern due to the potential for spills of hazardous materials. Fortunately, there are no bridges within ½ mile of the intake. A complete source water assessment can be viewed at Booneville City Hall during regular business hours. The Annual CCR is distributed via, internet, newspapers or hand delivery every year.

Drinking water, including bottled water, may reasonably be expected to contain at least small amounts of some contaminants. The presence of contaminants does not necessarily indicate that water poses a health risk. More information about contaminants and potential health effects may be obtained by calling the Environmental Protection Agency's Safe Drinking Water Hotline (800-426-4791).

The sources of drinking water (both tap water and bottled water) include rivers, lakes, streams, ponds, reservoirs, springs, and wells. As water travels over the surface of the land or through the ground, it dissolves naturally occurring minerals and, in some cases, radioactive material, and may pick up substances resulting from the presence of animals or from human activity. Contaminants that may be present in source water include: Microbial contaminants, such as viruses and bacteria, (sewage plants, septic systems, livestock operations, or wildlife). Inorganic contaminants, such as salts and metals, (naturally occurring or from stormwater runoff, wastewater discharges, oil and gas production, mining, or farming). Pesticides and herbicides, (stormwater runoff, agriculture or residential uses). Organic chemical contaminants, including synthetic and volatile organic chemicals, (by-products of industrial processes and petroleum production, or from gas stations, stormwater runoff, or septic systems). Radioactive contaminants, (naturally occurring or from oil and gas production or mining activities).

In order to ensure that tap water is safe to drink, EPA prescribes regulations that limit the amount of certain contaminants in water provided by public water systems. FDA regulations establish limits for contaminants in bottled water to provide the same protection for public health.

Some people may be more vulnerable to contaminants in drinking water than the general population. Immuno-compromised persons such as persons with cancer undergoing chemotherapy, persons who have undergone organ transplants, people with HIV/AIDS or other immune system disorders, some elderly, and infants can be particularly at risk from infections. These people should seek advice about drinking water from their health care providers. EPA/CDC guidelines on appropriate means to lessen the risk of infection by Cryptosporidium and other microbial contaminants are available from the Safe Drinking Water Hotline (800-426-4791).

Some or all of these definitions may be found in this report:

Maximum Contaminant Level (MCL) - the highest level of a contaminant that is allowed in drinking water. MCLs are set as close to the MCLGs as feasible using the best available treatment technology.

Maximum Contaminant Level Goal (MCLG) - the level of a contaminant in drinking water below which there is no known or expected risk to health. MCLGs allow for a margin of safety.

Maximum Residual Disinfectant Level (MRDL) - the highest level of a disinfectant allowed in drinking water. There is convincing evidence that addition of a disinfectant is necessary for control of microbial contaminants.

Maximum Residual Disinfectant Level Goal (MRDLG) - the level of a drinking water disinfectant below which there is no known or expected risk to health. MRDLGs do not reflect the benefits of the use of disinfectants to control microbial contaminants.

Below Detection Levels (BDL) - laboratory analysis indicates that the contaminant is not present.

Not Applicable (N/A) - does not apply.

Parts per million (ppm) - or milligrams per liter, (mg/L). One part per million corresponds to one minute in two years or a single penny in $10,000.

Parts per billion (ppb) - or micrograms per liter, (µg/L). One part per billion corresponds to one minute in 2,000 years, or a single penny in $10,000,000.

Parts per trillion (ppt) - one part per trillion corresponds to one minute in 2,000,000 years, or a single penny in $10,000,000,000.

Parts per quadrillion (ppq) - one part per quadrillion corresponds to one minute in 2,000,000,000 years or one penny in $10,000,000,000,000.

Picocuries per liter (pCi/L) - a measure of the radioactivity in water.

Millirems per year (mrem/yr) - measure of radiation absorbed by the body.

Million Fibers per Liter (MFL) - a measure of the presence of asbestos fibers that are longer than 10 micrometers.

Nephelometric Turbidity Unit (NTU) - a measure of the clarity of water. Turbidity has no health effects. However, turbidity can provide a medium for microbial growth. Turbidity is monitored because it is a good indicator of the effectiveness of the filtration system.

Variances & Exemptions (V&E) - State or EPA permission not to meet an MCL or a treatment technique under certain conditions.

Action Level (AL) - the concentration of a contaminant which, if exceeded, triggers treatment or other requirements that a water system shall follow.

Treatment Technique (TT) - a required process intended to reduce the level of a contaminant in drinking water.

Information About Lead:

If present, elevated levels of lead can cause serious health problems, especially for pregnant women and young children. Lead in drinking water is primarily from materials and components associated with service lines and home plumbing. Your local public water system is responsible for providing high quality drinking water, but cannot control the variety of materials used in plumbing components. When your water has been sitting for several hours, you can minimize the potential for lead exposure by flushing your tap for 30 seconds to 2 minutes before using water for drinking or cooking. If you are concerned about lead in your water, you may wish to have your water tested. Information on lead in drinking water, testing methods, and steps you can take to minimize exposure is available from the Safe Drinking Water Hotline or at <http://www.epa.gov/safewater/lead>.

Spanish (Español) Este informe contiene informacion muy importante sobre la calidad de su agua beber. Traduzcalo o hable con alguien que lo entienda bien.

The data presented in this report are from the most recent testing done in accordance with administrative regulations in 401 KAR Chapter 8. As authorized and approved by EPA, the State has reduced monitoring requirements for certain contaminants to less often than once per year because the concentrations of these contaminants are not expected to vary significantly from year to year. Some of the data in this table, though representative, may be more than one year old. Unless otherwise noted, the report level is the highest level detected.
	Allowable Levels	Highest Single Measurement	Lowest Monthly %	Violation	Likely Source
Turbidity (NTU) TT * Representative samples of filtered water	No more than 1 NTU* Less than 0.3 NTU in 95% of monthly samples	0.16	100	No	Soil runoff
Regulated Contaminant Test Results
Contaminant [code] (units)	MCL	MCLG	Report Level	Range of Detection	Date of Sample	Violation	Likely Source of Contamination
Inorganic Contaminants
Barium [1010] (ppm)	2	2	0.028	0.028 to 0.028	Feb-11	No	Drilling wastes; metal refineries; erosion of natural deposits
Copper [1022] (ppm) sites exceeding action level 0	AL = 1.3	1.3	0.037 (90 th percentile)	0 to 0.347	Jul-12	No	Corrosion of household plumbing systems
Fluoride [1025] (ppm)	4	4	0.91	0.102 to 1.16	Oct 2014	No	Water additive which promotes strong teeth
Lead [1030] (ppb) sites exceeding action level 0	AL = 15	0	6 (90 th percentile)	2 to 9.8	Jul-12	No	Corrosion of household plumbing systems
Nitrate [1040] (ppm)	10	10	0.185	0.1 to 0.185	Feb-09	No	Fertilizer runoff; leaching from septic tanks, sewage; erosion of natural deposits

A Simple Man

Column 131

Clarence worked and reworked his speech for Buck's funeral until he was satisfied that he had said what he wanted to say. He sealed it in a white envelope and put Buck's name on the front of the envelope. He placed the envelope on a small table by the front door so it wouldn't get misplaced. He felt good about getting that chore out of the way. His mind felt clear and he had a wave of contentment wash over him. Liza had been able to get them airline tickets quite easily over the phone. He couldn't remember when he had flown the last time, but he certainly thought that this would be his last time he would get on a plane. He would ask Jake to look after things at his house and feed his chickens and rooster while they were gone. Liza had not hesitated for a moment when he asked if she would accompany him to Buck's funeral. He thought about how the weeks had flown by when his daughters had stayed with him. He was looking forward to this trip to Buck's funeral with Liza. He enjoyed everyday life and the surprises it brought. He had a little piece of paper he carried in his wallet that made a lot of sense to him. It said, "We don't get to choose how or when we will die, but we do get to choose how and when we will live. Now." He was happy that he was able to attend his friend's funeral. This last week while his daughter was visiting would be a lot of fun. Clarence had a couple more places he wanted to show her and some things he wanted to do during their last week together. The big show was coming on Saturday and he was looking forward to that evening. He knew it was time for Liza to see what she had been missing and he was sure she would have the time of her life. He was pleased that he had lived long enough to see his daughter return to a passion she had when she was a young woman. He hoped her debut on Saturday night would be the beginning of many years of enjoyment through music and performing. He was a bit anxious for her and hoped she didn't feel too nervous to perform at her best with the band. He remembered how Liza would sit on their front porch swing and practice a new song she had learned. He would hear her singing and playing the guitar through the screen door when she thought no one was listening. These last couple of weeks he had been able to ease drop while his daughter worked on her songs when she thought no one was listening. He thought it was quite unique to have this similar experience so many years later. He would ask her to pick out his clothes to wear on Saturday night; she would like doing that for him.

Outdoor Truths by Gary Miller

I have been able to take a couple of days and float the river. Both times I have taken someone that has never been. One time the fishing was very slow. The next trip was more productive. Both trips were filled with all of those things that come with fishing the river whether the fish are biting or not.

I think that's what I like most about the river. When the rivers are small like in my area, there is enough action outside of catching fish to keep one interested. Making our way through the shoals, dodging low hanging limbs, and dragging our boat through the shallowest spots give the trip its character. Most of the time catching fish is an uneventful exercise. The story line doesn't change very much. "I casted my bait. The fish hit it. I sat the hook, fought it for a while, and reeled it in." That's pretty much the narration. What adds intrigue to a story is always the things that are peripheral. It's just the way it is. Those peripheral things are much easier to find on the river than on the lake. At least they are for me. And in writing, one always needs to find a way to present the same things in a different way. I find this same issue when I watch the hunting and fishing shows on TV. I can recite every line they are going to say. It may not be verbatim but the content will be the same. The shows that will move to the forefront in the days ahead will be the ones who learn to say the same thing a different way. This problem doesn't lessen the truth of each story or the excitement of each adventure; but without intriguing peripheral information, one may not stop the channel long enough to see the outcome.

The same problems can also plague other areas that hold more crucial information than an article or a Television program – like the Bible. You see the Bible contains stories and events that convey and contain truth. Over the past 2000 years these stories have not changed. David always defeats Goliath. Jonah always gets swallowed by a big fish, and Jesus always rises from the dead. What many of us have tried to do over the years is simply add bravado to the same story without applying ourselves to know the peripheral information. We thought if we just raised our voice or hit our podium; the truth would be more attractive. Perhaps we need to listen to our own words when we tell others that passion and sincerity does not equate to truth. Truth is not made more truthful by humility or less truthful by pride. It is truthful because it corresponds to reality. But it wouldn't hurt us to find new ways to explain it. The churches who continually strive to do this will become the places truth seekers will go.

PRTC Celebrates Loyal Customers

Grand Prize winner of a new 50" RCA television. PRTC's featured service of the day was the Connect3 savings package that gives customers a $9.95 monthly discount. Customers qualify by subscribing to PRTC phone service, PRTC high speed 15MB Internet service (or faster) and PRTC TV's Expanded Basic service. Connect3 customers are always able to add additional services to their PRTC packages at any time.

Paperless billing was also a huge hit at this year's event. PRTC offered a free, newly designed, t-shirt and a $10 bill credit to any customers who signed up. This service helps to save the environment on products used in producing your monthly statement (paper, ink, envelopes, etc). Signing up for paperless billing does NOT mean bills need to be paid using auto-pay. The only difference is how the bill is received. An email notification is sent once a month when the bill is ready. Once logged in, subscribers can choose to view or print the bill. PRTC plans to continue this special offer to those who were unable to attend.

With more than 300 members registering, PRTC wishes to thank everyone who made this year's Customer Appreciation Day a success.

hrough their efforts to help people experience God's transforming love through Jesus Christ!

The Harry Denman Evangelism Award is named for the founder of The Foundation for Evangelism. Dr. Billy Graham wrote, "Harry Denman was one of the great mentors for evangelism in my own life and ministry... the thing people will remember above all about Harry Denman was his love of Christ and his desire to see others come to know Him. He truly was one of those rare individuals whose impact will continue for generations to come."

Sheila Dooley received the 2015 Harry Denman Evangelism Award among the laity! We are proud of her witness for the Lord Jesus Christ for her friendship and love for our community and for being fruitful in leading others to a lasting relationship with Christ. Throughout her entire life she has been filled with the spirit of the Lord. She uses her gifts and talents in music to honor Him, and shares the good news of salvation to all to make disciples for Jesus Christ for the transformation of the world.

Sheila and Charles are members of Booneville United Methodist Church (Red Bird Missionary Conference) and call Booneville their home. The Booneville Community is truly blessed to have Sheila as our neighbor and friend.

This summer I am having the opportunity of going to Bucharest, Romania for mission work. The work that we will be doing will consist of helping streete kids with educational responsibilities, as well as helping them with any other needs. I made the choice to go on this trip because it is a once in a lifetime opportunity for someone my age. But doing so, this trip is very costly for me. So I am open for any donations of even just buying a tree dollar meal. I promise you I will do everything I can to make these children's lives better than what they are. So each Thursday I am going to be doing $3.00 meals. The meal will consist of a main course, a side and a dessert. Left is the list if meals that willbe prepared.

Thank you in advance for helping me get to go on this trip.

Eastside Apartment News
by Ruby Callahan

Hello from Eastside, We sure have been having some mixed weather. The flowers are making everything beautiful.

Keep all of our sick and the ones who have lost loved ones in your prayers. Josh Bingham is doing a lot better and is now home. We went to visit him yesterday. He can walk with a walker.

I have been to three graduations: my grandson, Michael's 6th Grade Graduation, Keely Begley's and Jacob Harris, Patton Dale Harris' sons in Berea. Every one sure looked nice.

Cake Recipe:
1 Box Yellow Cake Mix
5 Large eggs divided
1 stick butter melted
1LB softened Cream Cheese
2 Tsp Vanilla extract
3 Cups of Powdered Sugar
2 cups chopped pecans
1(12oz) jar Carmel ice cream topping

Heat oven to 325 in a medium bowl add cake mix one egg and melted butter and mix with a spoon to form thick dough. Press dough into the bottom of a 9X13 Pan set aside to make topping in large mixing bowl, heat cream cheese until free of lumps add butter and cream cheese together on medium speed for about 3 minutes add the 4 eggs one at a time, add the vanilla then add powdered sugar one cup at a time. Spread topping evenly over base. Sprinkle pecan on top, place in center of the oven rack; bake 45 minutes to 1 hour. The top should be golden brown, drizzle Carmel sauce over top serve warm or cold, makes 18 servings.

Booneville's 1st Annual Music Festival

for all the free advertising for the event and the Owsley County Public Library for letting us borrow tables and putting up signs, small things make a big difference.

There were a lot of amazing bands who came out to entertain for next to nothing. There wasn't a bad band the whole weekend and our local Owsley County talent can hang with anyone around.

We had lots of individual support from volunteers and we want to recognize them for the work they did. Running ticket booths, setting up tents, passing out surveys, working vendor booths, taking pictures, grounding generators, making signs and much more. I especially want to thank the people who stayed till 4:00 am breaking down the show. JoAnne Richardson, Roberta Smith, Kirstie Thompson, Josh Thompson, Donna Creech, Oneida McIntosh, Ron Bennett, Ronni Bennett, Dominic Bennett, Diana Bennett, Karissa Stamper, Jaydine Stamper, Lesa Marcum, Carlos Marcum, Keaton Marcum, Katie Cope, Darren Cope, JC Christian, Jordan Green, Derrick Durham, Markayla Hensley and Rachel Rice, thank you!

Again The organization would like to thank all those who attended or helped with the festival! We hope to see everyone out at next year's festival!" Sincerely Kacey Smith and the Special Events Team
